

SINDARIN VERB CONJUGATION CHART

Alphabetized according to English equivalents

This conjugation chart is a labor of love for all the Sindarin students at CoE. I truly enjoy working with every one of you. The conjugations here are almost entirely based off of Helge Fauskanger's SUGGESTED CONJUGATION of all known or inferred Sindarin verbs. My thanks to HKF and to our great CoE Sindarin teacher....Gildor-Inglorian, who has given many students here the joy of learning the language of the Elves !!
.....Naneth

Remember to add the appropriate endings where needed: -n for "I", -m for "we", -ch or -g for "you", and -r for denoting "they" or plurality.

All the verb tenses that need endings are listed in 3rd person singular form. "Pres. 3rd person" is only listed if it differs from the form in "present tense".

Using "call" as an example, the infinitive ... which can be used as a noun, adjective, or an adverb ... is read: "to call". The present tense is read: "calls" or "is calling". The past tense is read: "called" or "did call". The future tense is read: "will call". The imperative is read "Call !!" The present/active participle is an adjectival word and is read: "calling". The present perfective is also an adjectival word and is read "having called". The past participle, another adjectival word is read: "called". Lastly, the gerund...a noun... is read: "calling".
